

Clear Light

Three Ways to Activate Clear Light's Energy Movements

1. Breath into heart aware center activating living energy inwardly and outwardly moving toward further center. Feel the space around the spherical heart shell energize space as consciousness moves through it toward an infinite center and centers.
2. Activate space with movement of breath and heart moving living energy along matrix of crystal clear 3D cube. Merge beyond time into forth dimensional pure energy. Feel the essence of total universality crystallize along clear matrix of six observable dimensional planes left/right, front/back and top/bottom. Activate crystalline matrix of space merging total universality essence into total universal dimensional expression .
3. Intentional breath cycles activate ever-expansive heart center moving living energy toward absolute center and outwardly toward all centers of clear conscious space. Energize first dimension's line of intention to and from heart center. Move second dimension's living energy along planes of experience into third dimension's matrix of form. Energize matrix connecting 3D form to fourth dimensional omni-directional clear space cube. Breath and heart pulsates living energy into and from heart center through the living being of space synergistically connecting with omni-present total universality essence .

Psi Clear Light Visualization

Breathing into conscious and aware heart center feel and energize spherical heart center. Pulsate inwardly and outwardly with the breath moving to and through the shell of the spherical heart to a point of complete center. At complete center expand the breath's intention outwardly out through the heart's spherical shell and to a matrix of centers all about you. Inwardly feel lines of intention moving to spherical centers of twelve surrounding heart spheres. Breath moves lines of intention between observed heart center and closest packing of spheres' center energizing vector-equilibrium's energy source set into motion by intention. Breathe and pulsate aware heart spherical center in resonance with universal energy matrix connecting heart centers through pure white light of intention. Feel the lines of intention energizing outer shell of vector-equilibrium and heart center's connection to each. At heart center activate four wheels of hexagonal energy surrounding spherical heart center. In conscious awareness connect to first hexagonal ring feeling and activating spokes of intentions to spherical centers rotating around heart center. With more breath cycles add hexagonal wheels as heart's intention forms a synergetic matrix of four hexagonal energy rings to twelve other living spheres. Feel and energize four hexagonal wheels rotating them along their axis to center of aware heart. Spokes of pure white light are intentionally spinning as directed by conscious structure; spiraling into heart center and activating twelve surrounding heart sphere centers. At center of six directions of observable space activate an energetic white cube moving pure planes of intention left/right, top/bottom and front/back. At aware heart center activate all the white light planes of cube matrix energetically pulsating planes of experience to central lines of intention of vector-equilibrium connecting central outer lines of white light cube. At center of spherical heart intentional breath cycles energetic flows of cube matrix across 1st, 2nd 3rd and 4th dimensional connectivity. Axis center breathes inwardly and outwardly with lines of pure white conscious intention synergizing all conscious heart centers with central heart.
